DETAILED ACTION

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 1-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ep Patent 1,172,145 in view of Briggs and Bianchi of record for reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 9/28/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that the person of ordinary skill in the art would not have turned to the teachings of the Bianchi to modify the teachings of Briggs or Sato. This appears to be an argument alleging non-analogous art.

Section 103 requires us to presume full knowledge by the inventor of the prior art in the field of his endeavor (emphasis, expect of "prior," added), but it does not require us to presume full knowledge by the inventor of prior art outside the field of his endeavor, i.e. of "non-analogous" art. In that respect, it only requires us to presume that the inventor would have that ability to select and utilize knowledge from other arts reasonably pertinent to his particular problem which would be expected of a man of ordinary skill in the art to which the subject matter pertains. In re Antle, 170 U.S.P.Q. 285.

The Bianchi patent is cited to teach the deoxygenation to reduce the corrosion potential of the deionized water. The water passing the cathode is deoxygenated and thereby the corrosion potential is reduced (see claims 1-7). Accordingly, the reference is Applicants further states that Briggs and Bianchi would not be combinable, because the techniques of Bianchi would be rendered inoperable by the teachings of Briggs. the Briggs patent teaches that at the cathode water is electrolyzed to raise the pH by hydroxyl ions (see col. 4). Bianchi discloses the electrolytic formation of hydrogen ions from water which would have the corresponding formation of hydroxyl ions. It is unclear how these two references disclosing the electrolytic treatment of water at the electrodes can render one technique inoperable.

Accordingly, the claims stand rejected.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
